Dear Saints,

The Pentecost event has often been called the birthday of the Church. It surely marks a remarkable transformation of the disciples' personalities from timid and afraid for life and limb, to courageous and eloquently outspoken for the Lord. The day of that transformation added 3,000 new members to the little, infant movement of followers of the Christ.

It is the time when all believers can celebrate the Spirit of the Living God. This Spirit that danced gracefully as fire above the heads of the first disciples was the same Spirit who hovered over creation, who came upon great biblical heroes to inspire them for God's work. This is the same Spirit that is given to us at baptism. From Pentecost on "all flesh," said Joel and Peter, could have the Spirit that was once reserved for only a few. Now all the courage, wisdom, creativity, fervent devotion and so much more belong to all who ask for it in sincere love.

This is a very big day indeed.
